DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-28, drawn to a system for testing a first integrated circuit chip to be packaged along with at least a second integrated circuit chip in a semiconductor, classified in class 324, subclass 765.
 - II. Claims 29-32, drawn to an integrated circuit chip, classified in class 324, subclass 158.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination such as the SET, LOAD, and TEST signals are used to transition the first integrated circuit chip from normal operation into the test mode and to enable test codes to be loaded into the first integrated circuit during a programming phase of the test mode; the TDQ signals are used to load test codes into the first integrated circuit during the programming phase and to read/write data to and from the first integrated circuit during an access phase of the test mode. The subcombination has separate utility such as a first set of bonding pads located along a first side of the integrated circuit chip and a second set of bonding pads located along a second side of the integrated circuit chip, thereby reducing the need for connections integral to the integrated circuit chip for routing the same plurality of respective signals from the first side to the second side of the integrated circuit chip.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

If applicant elected the group I (claims 1-28), the following election of species is required:

- a. The species I: claims related to the paragraph 4 on page 2;
- b. The species II: claims related to the paragraph 5 of page 2; and
- c. The species III: claims related to the paragraph 6 of page 3.

Art Unit: 2829

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, It appears that no claim is generic Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Tung X Nguyen whose telephone number is (571) 272-1967. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30am-5:00pm M-F.
